

Today during a House Budget Committee hearing, I questioned defense expert Stephen Daggett regarding the cost to American taxpayers of the military operations in Afghanistan. Of course, as I noted, the real cost is in blood and the sacrifices of our service members and their families. To see a video of my remarks, click here .